Opera House-Benefit of Madame Scheller. This talented lady actress will take her first benefit in this city at the Opera House to-night. We trust our citizens will give her a substantial proof of the estimation in which they hold artistic talents and skill of the first order, such as she exhibits. Mme. Scheller will appear to-night in the beautiful musical pastoral entitled "Lorlie, or from Village to Court." This is one of Madame Scheller's best characters, and aftords ample opportunity for a full display of her abilities. In referring to her personation of this character in Cleveland the Herald says:

"It was so natural, so charmingly simple and so perfectly artiess, that the sympathy of the audience was enlisted in her behalf in the first act, and retained by her throughout the entire play, for she never forgot for a moment, whether as the simple rustic maiden, or as the admired wife of the court painter, the consistency that was due to the character assumed. Her appearance, her manners, her spontaneous and graceful gestures, her voice, her sweet singing, all culminate in the one effect of artlessness. In the earlier scenes, at her father's tavern home, she was, as Tennyson has it, 'Livelier than a lark,' and she peeled vegetables with a thoroughly domestic ease (at this moment a wild looking individual threw an apple on the stage) nor could the modest yet ardent passion of girlhood be more truthfully expressed than it was by her in the later scene with Reinhard. The same naturalness characterized her acting in the court scene, where homely truth is framed in golden artifice, and the jewel outshines the setting. But her best been in use two years; those in the High touches of nature were given in the last School during this winter. So far they act, when wounded to the heart, Lorlie sinks little by little into desolate anguish, her fitful movements, her broken articula- my of fuel, and promptness of action, they tion, her management of the letter and deserve special commendation. I cheerthe song, all beautifully expressed the fully recommend Mr. Martin's Furnaces to struggle for an impossible resignation to any who may desire an excellent mode or cruel fate."

Go to Mme. Scheller's benefit to-night. Let her have a full house.

Peter Martin's Hot Air Furnaces.

COLUMBUS, February 15th, 1865. To whom this may Concern:

Peter Martin, of Cincinnati, has placed his Patent IMPROVED HOT AIR FURNACES in our High School and District School No. 5. The Furnaces in District No. 5 have have given entire satisfaction. For efficiency in warming, quality of heat, econo-E. D. KINGSLEY, heating. Supt. of Public Schools of Columbus.

CIRCLEVILLE, Feb. 16th, 1865. The Warm Air Furnace nvented and manufactured by Mr. Peter Martin, of Cincinnati, was put into the Union school building of this city in November last, and thus far it has given entire satisfaction. It surpasses other furnaces in the following important particulars: It has, comparatively, a greater heating surface; produces a larger volume of heat with a given amount of fuel; the condition of the air in respect o temperature, moisture and purity, is su-ply of warm air for the several rooms, and ior; the admission of col

the fires, are more easily regulated. To avoid scorching and decomposing the air, as is done, to some extent, by other hotair turnaces, and to secure to each room an abundant supply of pure, fresh air, warmed to a pleasant temperature, as well as to protect the wrought-iron air-flues from the effects of the fire, it is essential than the warm air-flues leading to the school rooms, should be at least twelve inches in diameter. This will insure the influx of such a large and rapid current of resh air as to prevent the wrought-iron flues from being overheated, and thus secure the durability of the furnace, and keep the warm air in a healthful condition. It is deemed proper to State in this connection. that our Board of Education was induced to order Mr. Martin's Furnace, because two other furnaces had been previously used in our school edifice without satisfactory results, and because, after a careful examina-tion of a large number of furnaces and other modes of warming school houses and other public edifices, not only in Western b t also in Eastern cities, Mr. Martin's wa lieved to be decidedly the best.

Remonstrance Against Enforcing the Revenue Law in North Caro-

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.-The Times' Washington special says: A delegation of citizens from Newbern, N. C., had an interview with the President yesterday, during which they asked him to interfere in their behalf by overruling the provisions of the revenue law passed by the Constitutional convention of that State last October. The law referred to extends back to the first of January in its assessments, and is intended to collect taxes on business transacted previous to Johnston's surrender. The delegation insist that the convention had no power to make such a levy, as all of the business on the sea coast inside the Union lines was transacted under Treasury permits and un-der the regulations of the Treasury Department for trade in insurrectionary districts. The execution of the law being immediately threatened, and there being no courts in the States to act in the premises, the tioners were obliged to appeal to the President, and he has promised to give the matter early attention.

The New York Banks.

YORK, Dec. 14. Washington special says: It having come to the knowledge of the Treasury Department that certain New York banking insti-tutions have been in the habit of scuding circulars to newly established National panks, representing that by reason of their influence they can greatly facilitate the printing of their notes by the Department, provided they will keep their accounts with the banks sending circulars, the Comptrol-ler of the Currency desires to say that in his opinion the banks referred to are untrustworthy, since, from the circular, the inference would naturally be drawn that they possess extraordinary facilities for engraving of notes at the Department, which s not the case.
